“ I wanted to share the beauty of a new friendship. John befriended my school kids and myself on a trip to MPNH earlier this fall. They visited for most of the hour about fun baseball stories and life. The kids adored him so. We went back just before Christmas with blankets and the kids seeked him out wanting to say hi to our new friend. You are missed John, but we are so lucky to have met you and were able to learn from your kindness.
