“ Toni was everything a grandmother should be. Homemade baked goods, cobblers were my favorite, awaited us warm from the oven on every visit. She was always so interested in everything we had to say, what was important to us was important to her. Toni always remembered birthdays, graduations, and holidays with a card and well wishes. Toni's perfume, the smell that was Toni, is still one of my favorite things. On those rare occasions I smell it on someone else, it brings a smile to my face and makes me feel loved.
My grandma Toni will be sorely missed.
