“Bradley was a city boy with a country heart. He embraced the farming life that his Grandparents lived during his frequent visits to the Tucker farm near Frankford. I really believe that he gained his superb people skills by experiencing both suburban life and rural life. It helped shape him into the outstanding man he became. Brad brightened up any space he occupied with his kindness and humor. We will miss him greatly. Praying for comfort and peace for all of the family. Leah, Dale, Sierra, Lauren and Logan Erke
