“ My memories with Eric, Alvin and Phyllis go way back. The time my parents went on an anniversary trip and left us on the farm. Seeing all the piglets wallowing in mud, riding horses with Eric through the corn fields on Phyllis's barrel racer which took off Lockett-split. Going up to the Lake, catching fireflies, Alvin and Eric scaring me with water moccasin tales. The old clubhouse with its outhouse, the hand water pump, before Larry installed plumbing. Mosquitoes! And All the work Eric did in the last 20+ years for us. Thank you. It's hard to believe our cousin is gone now. I hope, Suzy, that we can visit you in the old place. You have such a nice family that will support you and each other. Dear souls, we'll be in touch.

“ Eric knew how to be a great friend, and it was my good fortune that he was a great friend to me for almost 50 years.

You had to love the guy. He was outgoing, pleasant to be around, sincere, respectful, unselfish, hard-working, intelligent, insightful and serious when the situation demanded, dedicated to his family and friends, an outdoorsman and a sportsman. Along with those and many other attributes, mix in a touch of mischief and good-natured irreverence. To me, that was Eric.

Perhaps one trait, however, was more in evidence than any other, and that was his sense of humor. He was very, very funny, with a mind for humor that was quick as a whip. I know I couldn't keep up with him. And he had a great laugh, and a way about him. You found yourself wanting to be around the guy, and see what he would come up with next. It is painful to realize that he is gone, much too early, from our lives.

This is all so tragic and so very sad. I thought he would be indestructible. My loss, while great, is insignificant when compared to his family's loss. I grieve for Suzy and his children, and his grandchildren, who have lost a great role model.

Rest in peace, my friend.

“ 20+ years ago my parents bought the farm. Little did we know then we would get the Kaser family as not only our neighbors but they would become part of our family. The news has left us all absolutely heart broken. My dad has now lost his right hand man & someone he considered to be a great friend of many years. I'm just not sure how life will proceed without him here to give us trouble and always be there when we need him. This picture was taken the day my niece and I took her senior pictures all around the farm and nearby only to find Eric working in the field. She hopped on the tractor and we took a few pictures to have him run around trying to figure out what was going on. Gave us all a great laugh and I'm happy I have a picture to remember that moment. We will forever love and cherish the memories we shared. Upholding you all in our thoughts and prayers!

To Phyllis, Alvin, Suzy and the rest of the family: Just heard this tragic news and cannot say how much it shocked and saddened me. Although I have not seen much of you all in these last years, I have many fond memories. By reading these other notes, I realize that Eric remained just as I remembered: funny, smart, and kind. As Phyllis can attest, and I had already told Suzy, growing up I spent a lot of time with Phyllis and her wonderful family, and some of my fondest memories were spending literally weeks at a time at the farm. I had the BIGGEST crush on Eric. Looking back, this still makes me smile, and a little embarrassed, because I am sure Eric knew but he was always nice (a terrible tease, of course) and he put up with his little sister's best friend. He and Alvin were like big brothers. And like his dad (who was also like a dad to me) Eric had a great sense of humor, many friends, and a work ethic second to none. I know how hard this loss must be, and David and I send our love and condolences to all of you. I will keep you in my thoughts and prayers.

So sorry to here this untimely news. We are long distance relation across the family tree that my Mother (Norma Jo Hoaglin who passed in 2015) always tried to keep in contact with. Eric brought his grandmother (Helen) over for visits after she stopped driving herself. Mom & Dad (Norma Jo & Mike) visited your farm once many years ago. He was impressed with your place and always talked about the antique Ford car Eric had.

Eric was my cousin. So sorry to hear of his passing. Shocking news as I saw him last at Luther Manor where we exchanged phone numbers after many years of separation. I still have relatives in Hannibal and now live in Jefferson City. Have many fond memories of family outings at the farm. My sympathy to his wife and Family. Larry Williams
