“ When I first met Helen, I had already been talking to Porter on the Upper side of 16, along with a couple others. I imagine she wondered why Porter told us where he lived. What started as sideband talk ended in a special friendship that has lasted over 30 plus years, including with my Mom, Dad, and my daughter. We had so many good times and visits over the years. I will miss you so much. Just wish I had been closer to visit more often. To your family, Helen, what a wonderful woman she was and my sincere condolences. Always interested in what you were doing and no matter how many times during a visit she asked, it didn't matter, she was always interested. She will be missed. “ My sweet sweet lady 😊

I never prepared myself for the possibility of losing you because I never wanted to picture you gone. It hurts like hell thats for sure, and walking past your empty room just doesn't feel right.. I should hear your tv from the top of the hallway because you always kept it on 100. I want you to ask me the same questions you would ask me everyday because it never got old and your responses every time were priceless💕 I'm sad not everyone gotten the chance to meet this amazing woman, she was definitely one of the greatest people I've ever met & if I could go back to any day spent with her I would, I so miss her voice. and her laugh.

I already miss you coming up to the desk at 3 everyday asking if I would like to split a coke. Or when I would put you to bed at night & you'd say "would you like a piece of candy, there's some peppermints over there about the size of a nickle, you can suck on em if you want" lol she always made me smile, and I'll sure miss hers. Til I see you again sweet angel !!!💕
