“ Words are hardly a balm for the sadness and extreme grief your family is experiencing due to the freak accident this beautiful child endured. Your recovery from the shock of this will be difficult. Not even 9 years of memories to look back on, that will have to suffice. Using your son's death as an example of what can happen maybe can prevent others from the same accident. My sympathy is unbounded. In sadness Norma Borne from Houston, Texas.

“ Corey and Kirsten,
There are no words to express the sorrow I feel for you all and your whole family. You all have had to endure so much in your lives already and then this tragedy comes to your door. I was so thankful to read in the obituary that your son knew and loved the Lord. Please trust in the peace of knowing that he is in heaven with our heavenly Father and his struggles in this world full of evil are over. He was blessed to be called home early but I know that is little comfort right now. I cannot even imagine the pain you all are going through and can only guess at how devastated I would be if something like this happened to our young son. I pray for you all and your entire family daily and will continue to do so. Trust in the Lord for strength and comfort. May God Bless You and Comfort You!
