“ Jerry was a "one of a kind" guy; always playing pranksters! He was best man in our wedding and a neighbor for over 50 years. He was always "on call" during snow storms, hospital trips and grocery store runs! We had a habit of stopping on the road and sharing stories about kids and grandkids. He was always proud of their activities. He would always begin his story with "now I don't mean to brag, but---"
I'll miss seeing his vehicle going in and out our road "several" times a day. He had a schedule that was hardly ever broken, in fact that is how all the neighbors kept track of him. Many knew exactly what time of day he would be driving by their house!!!
He was so devoted to wife, Ruth during her illness. He was also a very good cook!
I hope there are flamingos in heaven as Jerry liked to spread them around the neighborhood! Whenever I see one, I will think of him.

Susie, that's Dad alright - very predictable, direct, what you see is what you get. 😂
