“ She was a bad person. How on earth would someone think that she was a good person? She scammed people, passed bad checks, she stole things from people, she physically assaulted several police officers, and attempted to steal a television from a retail store. One of her daughters named Saige, is just like her. With Saige stealing things in Columbia, Missouri, scamming people, using them for their money, and stole from them. And she never paid them back. She did not deserve to have a funeral service. She will rot in hell for the rest of eternity, and so will her children.

This is extremely rude to say on my mother's obituary. A person that you've never met in your life, spoken to, or even known of. You've looked on CaseNet and brought your hatred to her obituary where we share memories. Her other children outside of Saige can see this as well as the rest of her family. There is a special place for a person like you. I pray that god finds a way to forgive you and when it's your time to meet him that you're welcome the way I know she was.
