“ Sis. Vivian had flare and glam about her. I met and spoke with her one evening after a modeling event. And, she was dressed for success right along with the models. In speaking with her, our conversation (and those to come) led to the goodness of the Lord. She always had this bright, wide smile and when we mentioned Jesus; we almost forgot where we were. Sis. Vivian engaged in such a deep conversation, we didn't realize that the pageant was about to begin and we hurried off to our seats after an embrace of love. Thereafter, we hugged and encouraged one another and she always, always, always had a Word! I love you Sis. Vivian and you surely will be missed. My the and prayers are with the family and friends of Sis. Vivian and I am sure she'd want us to shout and dance in celebration and not be down and sorrowful in her transition home. God bless you all!

“ Vivian and I are great friends. Vivian was a person that would do anything for you. She loved going out to eat and shop. Her kids and her grandkids were her life. I spent her 60th Birthday with her last year where I took her a piece of cake with 60 on it she was so happy. Even with her sickness she never complained. She loved the Lord and she didn't mind talking to you about the Lord.
